

Medicine Details

Benefits

How It Works

Side Effects

Expert's Advice

Expert's Advice

- Take Paracetamol with food or milk to avoid stomach upset.
- Follow the prescribed dose and duration; prolonged use may lead to complications such as stomach bleeding and kidney issues.
- Avoid taking antacids within 2 hours of Paracetamol.
- Avoid alcohol while using Paracetamol to minimize stomach-related side effects.
- Inform your doctor if you have liver disease, as dosage adjustments may be necessary.
- For long-term use, your doctor may monitor liver and kidney function and blood components.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. What if I vomit after taking Paracetamol?

If vomiting occurs within 30 minutes of a dose, retake the same dose. If it happens after 30 minutes, wait until the next scheduled dose.

Q. When will I feel better after taking Paracetamol?

Effects are usually felt within 30 minutes.

Q. How often can I take Paracetamol?

1 item added

View Cart >

Home

Offers

Notification

Profile